Information leaflet

Welcome to the Saint Francis Hospice Ward

We welcome all people at Saint Francis Hospice regardless of race, age, gender, sexual orientation, faith and belief or disability.

A place of comfort where you carry on living your life, with a team of professionals to care for you around the clock. Here is a place to feel safe and secure in a tranquil setting.

There are single, en-suite rooms and small, same sex wards. The Ward is light and airy; with space for your belongings and doors opening out to beautiful grounds.

Your daily meals will be cooked on-site using the best fresh ingredients, some of which are grown here at the Hospice. We will cater for your dietary requirements and you can ask for your favourite food!

Your loved ones and friends are welcome to visit. The relaxing lounge is the perfect place to unwind and there are toys and games for children and young people. There is internet access too.

Many people find that a relatively short period on the Ward can make a real difference to how they feel.

Who you might meet on the Ward

Our people are at the heart of what we do. We are the nurses, therapists and doctors helping and caring for people. Together, we are Saint Francis Hospice. Here for you.

Here are some of the people you might meet while staying with us:

Doctor / Consultant

Nurse

Family and Individual Support Team

The family and individual support team offers practical and emotional support to you, your carers, family, loved ones, friends, relatives, children and young people.

Our social worker can assist you or liaise with your local social health services, to ensure you have the help you need, or be an advocate for you with other agencies such as housing, care agencies, welfare or benefits agencies.

Our counsellors work to support everyone you care about including children and young people, either individually or working with family and loved ones therapeutically to provide specialist support around end of life, communication and bereavement.

Our counsellors work with a variety of psychological issues, anxieties or concerns.

There are regular therapeutic groups to support people to express their feelings. The counsellor's role can enable an individual to gain a sense of space and security where they can begin to explore innermost feelings, how they relate to the world around them, how they can make sense of their own personal life journey and how they can live with change.

An integral part of the team's work is the bereavement support and counselling service. Our trained bereavement counsellors work individually or in one of the various therapeutic group sessions including our monthly walking group.

Pastoral care is for people of all faiths or none.

Living with an illness can sometimes create uncertainty and concerns. There may be questions, fears, hopes or regrets which you might want to explore safely with a kind, supportive presence. Each member of our team will listen without judgement to anything on your mind.

You may long for ways to celebrate life and we can help you create important moments such as a wedding ceremony, a renewal of vows or exploring ways to connect with your beliefs and what is important to you. We can also help you design your own personal ceremony to mark occasions or special moments. We can organise acts of worship or rites, pray with you or for you, and can arrange for people from your own faith group to visit if appropriate.

The Hospice Quiet Space is a peaceful room which is open for all to use, for personal prayer, meditation or simply to have time for quiet contemplation.

Complementary Therapies Team

The Complementary Therapies Team offer treatments to individuals, carers, families and loved ones. Treatments available are massage, aromatherapy, reflexology, mindfulness and reiki.

The aim of our service is to communicate care through the medium of therapeutic touch; assisting with symptom control and offering support by providing a safe area for you to have time out from the demands of illness.

If you wish to be referred for treatment, or require further information, please speak to a member of the nursing team.

Occupational therapy team

Your occupational therapist can help you enjoy the things you used to and discover something new.

Practical help is often the first requirement and by advising you on how to make small adaptations to your home or providing specialist equipment, your independence and quality of life may improve.

Physiotherapy team

Adjusting to living with an illness or condition that can't be cured, often brings unexpected physical challenges. Our physios are here to help you keep your independence for as long as possible.

Physiotherapy can help to:

- ♥ Relieve pain and discomfort
- ♥ Aid relaxation and mobility
- ♥ Help with breathlessness and fatigue
- ♥ Address problems of balance and co-ordination.

Your choices for future care

We need to ask you (or your carer, family, loved ones or friends), as a routine, whether you have any special wishes and thoughts concerning your current or future care, and whether others know of these special wishes.

Special wishes might include the following:

- ♥ An advance care plan which can include your thoughts and wishes in the event of a decline in health
- ♥ A preferred place of care
- ♥ A preferred place of death
- ♥ Registration on the National Organ Donation database, including Tissue and Cornea donation
- ♥ A nominated Attorney who can speak for you and act in your best interest.

We have learnt that if these questions are not discussed we miss knowing about things which are very important and matter to you and your loved ones.

Communication with people involved in your care

We ensure that your GP, District Nurse and those involved in your treatment and care are up to date with any changes or interventions we make. A copy of any letter we write to your GP or others would be available at your request.

Facilities for you

The Ward has a number of four bedded and single rooms. Each bed in a bay has curtains which will be drawn for privacy. We have single sex wards. We have a smaller private room and a bigger lounge for you and your visitors to use. The Hospice canteen (Orange Cafe) is available for meals and refreshments.

Things to bring

Toiletries, clothing and loose change.

Medication

Before deciding which treatments you require, we need to know what medicines you are taking. Please bring them with you. We will use them during your stay, if appropriate. A two week supply of medicines will be provided when you are discharged. Please return any unneeded medicines to your family for disposal.

Medications are given in response to individual need and not routinely at set times. We ask, in order to maintain safety and security standards, that the nursing staff are not disturbed whilst dispensing and administering medication.

Money and valuables

We regret that the Hospice cannot accept responsibility for any personal property retained by you and not given in for safe keeping.

A bedside locker is provided for your personal belongings, but you are advised not to bring large amounts of money or valuables into the Hospice. If this is unavoidable, the items should be handed to a member of the nursing staff for safe-keeping. You will be given a receipt for these items.

There is a lockable compartment in your bedside locker, please ask for the key if you would like to use it.

Other Information

Cost of care

The Hospice is a registered charity, receiving some support from neighbouring health and local authorities. The NHS provides 28% of the total funding.

All of the care that you have received at the Hospice is entirely free of charge to you, your carers, family, loved ones and friends.

Hospice care is costly. We employ a number of experienced staff to provide the best care we can offer. Our average costs are:

£826 pays for eight hours of care for an individual and their loved ones in our Hospice Ward

£100.25 pays for one Senior Nurse for a day

£138 pays for a visit from a Community Nurse

£58 pays for an hours visit from a Nurse from our Hospice at Home team

It is due to the generosity of many people that we are able to offer care without charge to you and those you care about.

If you would like to make a donation, please speak to a member of staff or visit the Hospice website.

Private health insurance

People with private health insurance often ask us whether their insurance scheme will contribute towards their stay at the Hospice.

Schemes do vary so if you have private health insurance please let your insurance scheme know that you are staying on the Ward. They will let you know if your scheme includes partial reimbursement for a Hospice Ward stay. If they do, you will be forwarded an appropriate form for the Ward care team to fill in.

If your scheme is not sure or needs advice, our Director of Finance is happy to help and can be reached via the Hospice main telephone number.

Treating staff and volunteers with respect

Saint Francis Hospice is committed to the wellbeing of individuals, staff and volunteers. We expect those accessing our services and premises to treat everyone with the courtesy and respect that they would expect to receive themselves.

Any verbal/physical abuse, harassment, violence or discrimination is unacceptable and will not be tolerated. Thank you for your co-operation.

Share your story and make a difference

Those who have experienced our services, whether as a patient or relative, are always the best people to spread the Hospice message. It means so much more to hear it from someone who really knows first-hand what Saint Francis Hospice is all about.

"Maybe if we can encourage people to talk we can make things better for other families and that would be a great thing to do in Debbie's name."
Cliff Jones, Debbie's father, Spurs legend and Hospice patron.

If you would like to join them in sharing your experiences to enable us to continue the work of the Hospice, we would be delighted to hear from you. Your words could comfort people already in our care, persuade others to turn to the Hospice for help or inspire the next donation. You can provide as much or as little information as you wish and we will always seek approval before using your story.

Saint Francis Hospice also has access to a team of talented volunteer photographers who provide us with quality images to help illustrate the impact of first class Hospice care. If you want to tell us about your Hospice experience or have your photograph taken then please talk to a member of the nursing team who will introduce you to a member of the Marketing and Communications team. We would be delighted to hear from you.
